

INFORMATION FOR MUNI STUDENTS - SPRING 2023

You can find the information about communication channels, assessment methods, homework assignments, and grading for the course “The fundamentals of technical writing” at MUNI as follows.

Disclaimer: This is a pilot version of the course.

COMMUNICATION CHANNELS:

- GitHub:
 - After each lesson we will upload a modified version of presentation in PDF
 - You will use GitHub for your final homework assignment
- IS MUNI:
 - You can find here four depositories for homework assignments (1st - 4th homework)
- Discord channel: <https://discord.gg/xES8rcCj>
 - An optional way to reach the teachers.
 - You can use it for questions also during the week, the channel will be monitored by our technical writers; you can also use it for communication with other students.

ASSESSMENT METHODS:

- Written work to display writing skills, and to show application and evaluation capabilities

HOMEWORK ASSIGNMENTS:

- You will have five homework assignments throughout the course
- Each assignment contains the expected time to complete, and you will earn 10 points for each hour of work.
- The final homework assignment, from the Tooling lesson, is mandatory and will be a continuation of the penultimate assignment from the Hard skills lesson.

Homework	Deadline	Submit in	Max points	Requirement	Grading
1st Introduction	21st Feb, 11:59 a.m.	Odevzdávárna/ depository in IS	25	optional	Minimal requirement to pass: 65 % of the total amount of points (65 points out of 100)
2nd Style	28th Feb, 11:59 a.m.	Odevzdávárna/ depository in IS	30	optional
3rd Soft skills	7th Mar, 11:59 a.m.	Odevzdávárna/ depository in IS	20	optional
4th Hard skills	14th Mar, 11:59 a.m.	Odevzdávárna/ depository in IS	25	optional
5th Tooling	21st Mar, 11:59 a.m.	GitHub	30	mandatory	65 % of the max amount of points (20 points out of 30)

GRADING:

- Pass or fail is based on the total points from the homework assignments.
- In order to pass the course, you must acquire at least:
 - 65 % of the total amount of points from the homework assignments 1 - 4,
which means 65 points
 - plus 65 % of the points from the final homework, which means 20 points
- You cannot pass this course without completing the fifth homework assignment from the Tooling lesson.

Note:

It is highly advisable to complete both the Hard skills and Tooling homework assignments as they are closely related and will help you build a stronger understanding of the course material.